

Bitch's Pudding

According to many breeders, this pudding helps to insure that the nursing mother continues to produce sufficient milk for her wee Scottish Terrier lads and lassies.

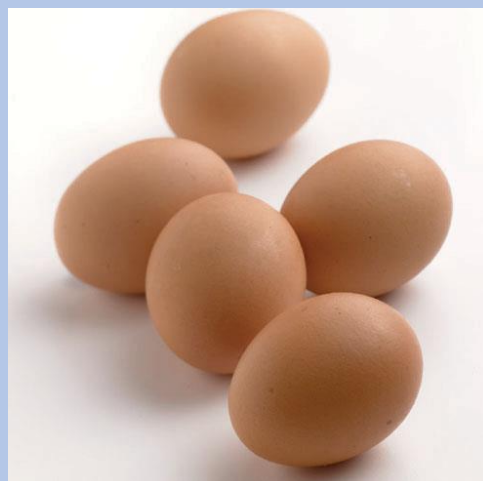

1 quart lactose-free whole milk

4 egg yolks

1 small box vanilla pudding (the kind you cook, not instant and not sugar free either)

Bring to a simmer and take off the heat. It should still be soupy. Refrigerate and give about a half cup with each meal. After I was sure it would not upset her tummy I also have her some as a noon snack.

Available in 32, 64 and 96 fl. oz. containers.
